ELKS' ANNUAL CHRISTMAS TREE

The opera house was crowded to capacity on Thursday night last for the Elks' annual Christmas treat for the kiddies of the community. About fifteen hundred parcels of confections, etc., were handed out to children between the ages of two and fourteen, and a splendid programme was rendered by the children of the local school under the guidance of Principal McPherson and members of the teaching staff.

This annual event is growing in popularity and is eagerly looked forward to, not only by the kiddies, but by their parents and older folks as well.

BLAIRMORE BEARCATS DEFEAT 1927-28 PROVINCIAL CHAMPS

In one of the best hockey games for years at the local arena last night, the Blairmore Bearcats defeated Medicine Hat, provincial champions for 1927-28 season, by a score of seven to six.

Only a small house witnessed the game, which was filled with thrills from beginning to end.

These teams were so evenly matched, that it is hoped to arrange for another game between them on Easter before the season closes.

The game was refereed by Coleman's old hockey war-horse, Charlie Graham.

The Hat boys arrived on the morning train, returning after the game at night. Before leaving they were the guests of the local club to a luncheon served at the Greenhill Grill.

The visitors were not in the best of trim, having had very little chance for practice so far this season, owing to difficulty in obtaining ice at the Hat.

SOME FISH

A few days ago, while a party of local sports were exchanging stories of their ventures for the past season, one of the party, an Italian by birth, baited in with the following: "Talk about fish. Mine place south for Cowley five miles and the river dere is chock full big feesh. Me and my wife went down to the river one day 'twas rain like all hell. 'Fore leav house I look roun' fer some baits. I no like hopper grasses, so I take piece meat—bout half a pounds. I get hook like mine fingers and get some hay wire from de barn, fer I no trus' rotten lines. We go down to the river, I put chunk meat on hook—all of it at once—and tie my wire onto piece of fence posts. One big trow in de pool by canyon and big feesh bite. I haf hell of a time get him land and tink I neffer get dat hook out for his belly. Holly gee, I work like hell and den haf fer take mine knife and cut him open. I takes dat fish back to mine house—my wife she carry hook and meat. I put him on scale and what you tink he weighs? Twenty-tree and a half pounds. Holly gee, I sweat!"

Here's to the Garden of Eden,
Which Adam was always a weedin',
Till Eve, by mistake, got bit by a snake,

Who on a ripe pippin was feedin'.
Then a longing it seemed to possess her,

For clothing enough to dress her,
And ever since then—it has been up to us men,

To pay for her dresses, God bless her.

A bashful young couple, evidently much in love, entered a crowded train.

"Do you think we can squeeze in here?" he asked, looking doubtfully at her blushing face.

"Don't you think, dear, we had better wait until we get home?" was the low, embarrassed reply.

FORMER BLAIRMORE BOY FIGURES IN FANCY SKATING AT TRAIL

With numerous attractive costumes, fancy and comic, the Trail Rotary club's second annual carnival in the rink last night, presented a colorful scene to the many spectators who attended. The fancy dress carnival was only a part of the well carried out programme which included fancy and comic skating by Miss Mae Fielding and Gordon Thompson, skaters of international repute; relay races for public school boys and girls, and a short exhibition of hockey by aspiring members of Trail's West Kootenay hockey league team. Elks' band was in attendance and played for the various numbers.

Opening the programme with an exhibit of aesthetic skating, Miss Fielding delighted the large audience by gracefully executing almost impossible figures. A spot light greatly added to the attraction of this number.

Finishing the last circle with a good lead, the public school boys "B" relay team won this event. The boys were, E. Leschutta, R. Owen, R. Basco and J. Colombo. Out of eight entries for the boys' musical barrel contest, Archie Ferguson succeeded in being the last survivor with a barrel.—Trail News.

AT CHRISTMAS

Man is always in a struggle and he's often misunderstood;

There are days the worst that's in him is the master of the good, But at Christmas kindness rules him and he puts himself aside, And his petty hates are vanished and his heart is opened wide.

Oh I don't know how to say it, but somehow it seems to me

That at Christmas man is almost what God sent him here to be.

Blessing on the Ford

The story is told that a certain young man was recently speeding merrily along the road when he caught up with a party of children on their way to school. He asked them if they cared to ride, and for an answer, they piled into his Ford until it was so completely filled that one little girl had to sit on the driver's lap. She was a plump little thing and the driver cuddled her close to keep her away from the steering wheel.

"Do you like school?" he asked her. "Yes, sir," she lisped.

"Do you go every day?"

"I haven't missed a day this year," the little girl replied.

"Good little girl," said the driver, kissing her soft cheek. "Do you like your teacher?"

"Yes, sir," said the girl; "I'm the teacher."

And the Ford very near went into the ditch.

A boy was summoned to Edinburgh to give evidence against his father who was charged with a breach of the law.

"Come, now, my little man," said the magistrate, "let us hear all you know about this affair."

"Weel, sir," said the youth, setting down to business, "ye ken George V. Bridge?"

"Sure an' I do, ladlie."

"Weel, ye gang along it till ye come to a pump."

"Yes, yes, I ken it weel."

"Weel, ye can gang and pump it, for ye'll no' pump me."

Misunderstood

Constable: "I say, there, can't you go a bit slower through the village? Don't you ever read the sign there, 'Dead Slow'?"

City Motorist: "Sure, I have, but I thought it referred to your village."

The New Canadian

Valuable Contribution From European Countries To Make Up Our Population

Hon. R. B. Bennett, because he has lived so long in the west, deemed it desirable, in a speech delivered in Toronto recently, to pay a tribute to what has been accomplished in that part of Canada by people who are not all of British birth, but many of whom have come from various other countries. The Conservative leader is well advised. "We want Canada to be predominantly British in its population, but we have received and will continue to receive most valuable additions from other sources. Out of these have come real leaders who are genuine Canadians. To nourish a prejudice against any one on account of a difference of race is not good Canadianism; they are judged by other characteristics. As Mr. Bennett very properly points out, Great Britain itself represents a fusion of blood of many peoples. There are today scattered throughout the western country people who have come from different European countries, but who themselves are proud to be called Canadians, and proud of the privilege they have of aiding in the upbuilding of this great Dominion."—St. John's Telegraph Journal.

League Of Danes Organized

First Meeting Held in Winnipeg Was Very Successful

"Aiming at 'winning' the 40,000 Danes living in the Dominion to assist newcomers from Denmark in being assimilated as citizens of this country and at the same time preserving Danish ideals and culture, the first convention of the League of Danes in Canada, held in Winnipeg recently, proved successful. It was attended by 100 natives of Denmark. An executive committee was appointed and the new society was formed under what those present regarded as exceptionally favorable circumstances. Dr. N. P. Olson, Dominion veterinary officer, presided.

The conclusion of the motor car race on the other day, when a village jury, in a corner's inquest on a farmer who had been killed on the highway by an automobile, returned a verdict recommending that pedestrians walking on the roads at night should be required to carry lights. A few years ago there was strong opposition in the rural parts to the law requiring all vehicles to carry lights. What is the world coming to? The "big" high asked. The regulation has come to be regarded as a necessary one. When the coroner's jury recommended that all pedestrians carry lights after dark we expected an uprising of the ambulatory farmers of the province against the suggestion. There has been scarcely a word of protest—indeed, in several rural journals there have appeared items approving the suggestion as one that would work for the good of the whole.

Victory Seems Complete

Public Opinion Has Been Conquered By Motor Car

The victory of the motor car is complete. No longer is it possible to doubt that the car has conquered public opinion. The motor car first owned the town. Now it owns the township as well. There was a time when it was seriously proposed in Ontario no motor car should appear on the highways except at certain permitted hours, morning and evening. This horse-drawn traffic, uncontrolled, could hold the roads half the day. Now the horse is seldom seen on the highway.

Not so long ago the law required motorists, on meeting a funeral or overtaking one, to come to a standstill. But the motor car overcame that difficulty by taking over the funeral and speeding them up. The departed citizen rolls along on balloons and his funeral is at an end.

The conclusive victory of the motor car came on the other day, when a village jury, in a corner's inquest on a farmer who had been killed on the highway by an automobile, returned a verdict recommending that pedestrians walking on the roads at night should be required to carry lights.

A few years ago there was strong opposition in the rural parts to the law requiring all vehicles to carry lights. What is the world coming to? The "big" high asked. Country Has To Import Wheat For Manufacturing Purposes

The present status of the Japanese flour and grain trade cannot be described as wholly satisfactory, writes James A. Langley, Canadian trade commissioner in Kobe, in the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

While flour milling is one of the industries in which Japanese interests are paying particular attention, the market has shown in lower and unduly prices the effects of many adverse influences. The dominant factor contributing towards the falling market price for flour has been the over-extension of flour mills.

In pre-war days, the productive capacity of all Japanese mills was about 750 barrels per day, but it continued to increase until today the mills have a capacity of 47,240 barrels per day. Yet imported wheat continues to enter in increasing quantities. Imports from Canada during 1927 showed an increase of 100,557 barrels over 1926.

Canada, Australia and the United States continue to supply the bulk of the wheat requirements of Japan. This year an increased importation is anticipated due to the inferior grades of the domestic crops.

The year 1927 showed a decrease in the exportation of domestic wheat flour to the extent of 1,200,000 49-pound bags when compared with the 1926 figures, during which period 4,805,000 bags were sold in overseas markets. The annual production of domestic wheat in Japan is about 81,000,000 bushels, and to meet the requirements of the flour mills 17,000,000 bushels were imported in 1927 for manufacturing purposes.

Growing Prize Grain

Herman Treile Says Farmers Not Paying Enough Attention To Quality

Herman Treile, Canada's "wheat king," interviewed in Winnipeg, stated that he was misquoted in a recent report that he was "going broke" growing prize grain. What he meant to convey, he said, was that growing of prize grain was much more expensive than commercial farming.

"The desire for prize grain does not command the respect of the business world that he should," Mr. Treile continued. "The struggling farmer, in doing everything in his power to make his location a big business, he is slowly separating the proverbial haystacks from his matted hair. We men of the soil must insist on the world knowing that farming is a big business."

"The results of the big exhibitions, however, show that Canadian farmers are not paying enough attention to the quality of grain that these exhibitions demand," he concluded.

Praise For Wheat Pool

Premier Stanley Baldwin and Ramsey MacDonald Compliment Organization

The Canadian institution which made the greatest impression upon Premier Stanley Baldwin and Ramsey MacDonald, was the wheat pool. The annual meeting of the Empire Parliamentary Association in London, Premier Baldwin said that the wheat pool seemed to him to be one of the most remarkable attempts at co-operation in self-help any body of men had made.

Mr. MacDonald, in seconding Mr. Baldwin, said in his opinion the wheat pool was one of the most extraordinary examples of co-operation he had found in the world. He also eulogized the hydro-electric system of the Dominion.

The most sensitive part of the body is the tip of the tongue.

RADIO COMMISSION

The royal commission to investigate the radio situation, in Canada was announced a few days ago. They are: (1) Charles A. Bowman, editor-in-chief of the Ottawa Citizen; (2) Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Toronto; chairman of the commission; and (3) Augustin Frigon, director of the polytechnic school at Montreal. The commission will review radio conditions in Canada from the following questions: (1) The establishment of one or more groups of high-powered broadcasting stations operating in private enterprise with the receipt of government subsidy; (2) The establishment and operation of such a system to be owned and financed by the Dominion Government; (3) The establishment and operation of stations by provincial governments.

Mica is produced in Canada mainly from mining in the Ottawa region, both in Ontario and Quebec. The Quebec deposits lie between the Levee and Gatineau rivers, and the Ontario deposits, in the Perth-Kingston district. The mine near Sydenham, Ontario, is probably the largest mica mine in the world.

Legislation Respecting Liens

Removing Financial Obstructions To Operation Of Farm Lands

Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, is anxious with reference to certain liens on western lands which he obtained from Parliament in the session of 1927.

By this Act (The Crown Debt Act) liens and other financial obstructions to operation placed on lands in certain areas during the five years following 1914 to attempt to insure repayment of advances for seed grain and fodder being adjusted. It is expected from what Hon. Mr. Stewart learned from his study of the working out of the plan while in the West that a number of farmers who might have been driven from the land will be encouraged to remain as a result of these adjustments, which are being made at no cost to the settler for the legal process, and that some which have been filed up and non-productive can now be disposed of to those who will put them to the use for which they are fitted.

As explained in Parliament, where the bill was fully discussed, there was a rapid advance of settlement, especially from 1914 to 1916. It was in southeastern Alberta, and southwestern Saskatchewan, formerly devoted to ranching. "The extremely dry years following 1914 experienced by this district seriously crippled the grain farmer and the Government to assist them, especially in view of the need for increased food production caused by the war, grants of seed grain, fodder, and other forms of relief were made during the winter of 1915 and the following spring.

The area, however, has proved too dry for grain farming although suited to grazing, and while considerable portions of these loans were repaid the remainder, which was grain farmer's money, was not repaid. The Government, through the federal and provincial governments and by loan companies. Some settlers, who had remained, desired to secure additional loans and to get sufficient grain for grazing, and others were anxious to come in to undertake the pasturing of cattle. Both were prevented by the existence of these liens.

THE WEATHER AND INFLUENZA

Except for three days of below zero weather during early December, the fall and early winter months have been one long Indian Summer. Butterflies are still to be seen. Their numbers are extremely few. It is true, but they are there in the open and full of vim and vigor. Blue jays were whistling in a northern garden only last week, the blue of the birds rivaling the blue of the sudrenched sky.

It is delightful and like most delightful things it has to be paid for. Paid for in the coin of temporary ill health. The doctors are agreed that so long as the mild weather continues, so will colds and influenza. Influenza in the more serious infection brings with it pleurisy or pneumonia and they in turn having inspired the body's resistance, pave the way for that dread disease, tuberculosis.

The apparently innocent little cold is the real beginning of many serious respiratory infections. Only when an amendment has been passed to the communicable diseases act, compelling all persons suffering from a cold to be isolated, shall a real blow be struck at influenza and its dread followers.

Let this be the New Year resolution of all readers: "Resolved that when I have caught a cold, I will go to bed and stay there until completely recovered thus showing regard for my own health and my responsibility for the health of the community."

Literature on the common cold and all communicable diseases may be had from the Canadian Red Cross, 407 Civic Block Edmonton, Alberta.

In connection with the revision of the game regulations, one matter should not be overlooked, that is the doing away with the special permit system which permits hunters to take deer before the regular season. Although evidence is difficult to obtain, it is believed that deer are annually slaughtered through this permit system, without regard to the sex or the territory in which they are hunted. Also, there is little, if any, advantage in hunting so early in the fall, as it is practically impossible to save the meat and the horns are not by any means in prime condition. We understand that recommendations along this line have already been made by the Alberta Provincial Police, and the majority of our sport loving public would like to see the necessary action taken.

The many friends of Robert Duthie will be sorry to learn of his serious accident, which occurred last Saturday evening about ten o'clock. Mr. Duthie, after returning to his home from the store, went down to the basement to fix up the furnace for the night and coming up the stairs had a slight heart attack and fell backwards into the basement, striking a pillar and fracturing three ribs. This is a very painful and quite serious accident and his many friends sincerely wish him a speedy recovery.—Ferne Free Press.

Master of men, yet strangely prisoner to the clinging grasp of tiny hands upon his horny fingers—a tremendous dramatic, different story of the sea, in which a frail girl, two strong he-men and the baby form the oldest love triangle ever filmed. "Sal of Singapore" at the Orpheum Friday and Saturday—a picture fans will enjoy.

What came near being a serious accident happened near the Fifth Avenue railway crossing on Monday evening, when a team of horses made their getaway and collided with an auto, the pole hitting Leslie McDowell, of Beaver Mines, in the shoulder, causing a slight fracture. He was rushed to the hospital, but was able to leave that institution for his home on Tuesday evening. The car was considerably damaged.

A Piece of Pie.

SOME of these modern diet delusionists are claiming that the habit of eating pie is a pernicious one. They would have it barred from the diet as a menace to health. A drastic movement such as this would be little short of a national calamity. There is probably no article of diet which appears in such infinite variety and enjoys such a wide-spread popularity as pie. It has an old-fashioned homey appeal to the hearts (or rather stomachs) of millions of devoted devotees who would rise in open rebellion at any attack on its character or reputation. It is an old reliable standby that has stood the test of time, the attacks of fanatics, and the forebodings or dyspeptics. Its interior contents are many and varied, but all are generally good (except dried apple) although some kinds have more allurements than others.

Vegetables, cereals, fruits, berries, birds, fish and wild and tame animals have all contributed to the many and mysterious compounds used in its interior upholstery. Millions of inventors are continually searching and experimenting for new ingredients and possibilities.

It can be obtained in three standard and approved models of open-faced, closed and cross-barred designs which have been approved by age and usage and are fittingly appropriate to certain species.

Pie can be eaten by people of all ages, of all races, of all colors. It is equally enjoyable hot, lukewarm, cold, with or without music, waiters, lights, napery, table hardware or other impedimenta. It is good when eaten alone, or in company with cheese, sauce, sugar, milk, and any kind of cream—(whipped, calm or frozen). It is without caste, social aspirations or highbrow snobbery. It is equally paramount in the laborer's dinner pail, the fly-specked beanery, the railway lunch counter, the choose-and-carry-catereria, or the sacred precincts of the most shamelessly-expensive-hyphenated hostelry. It can be eaten for all meals—breakfast, lunch, dinner or a midnight snack. (I happen to know of an old grey-haired rascal that skinnies around before breakfast on Sunday mornings in hopes of discovering a piece left over from the previous meal). It is good at all hours, in all seasons, in all weathers, provided always that it be well and truly made. That is the main consideration. Beware of the shameless and base imitation, made from embalmed commercial mystery artfully concealed beneath layers of pallid linoleum that flaunts its brazen and spurious effrontery on an innocent clientele.

A real true honest-to-goodness pie—full of richness and gooey goodness—fashioned by the skillful hands of a love-inspired genius (usually the mother of a large family) is a culinary poem in gastronomic allurements; a creation of palatable attainment and contentment that rounds out the felicity of any festal assemblage.

Fashion may vary the length of skirts; governments may fall, or mining stocks pay dividends, but pie will always be eaten, a never failing source of dietetic enjoyment to millions of devoted consumers.—E.K.

When the committee appointed to visit the members of the church to collect for the fund for the purchase of the new organ called upon Mr. Smith, the men were invited into the diningroom to discuss the matter. The business concluded, Mrs. Smith called to her husband from the living room: "Well, what did you give them?" Mr. Smith replied: "Jones would not take anything, but Robinson took whiskey."

A Couple of Reasons
She: "I bobbed my hair to show my independence."
He: "What did you bob your skirt for?"

While we have been inclined to more or less accept the belief that there is a good deal to the idea of the older generation that Youth has gone wild, we have, however, within the past week run into evidence which makes us wonder if we are not wrong, and that there may be "hope for parents."

Recently we opened a magazine from which we learned the fact that in the freshman class of a great university, which is generally credited with being one of the leaders in affairs collegiate, more than one-third of the entering body of students expected to work their way through college. Not much sign of revolution and wildness there!

Within a few days an older graduate was addressing a body of college men and made the statement: "If you want to see conservatism just suggest to a group of college boys that they act in a manner different from accepted tradition. You'll receive in reply a negative explosion of no uncertain strength."

But, perhaps, this is too much of the college. How then about the young lady of flapper age who can worm a high-powered Packard through dense traffic at high speed, who made the remark: "that after all she had come to the conclusion that there was a good deal more to life than merely wearing short skirts."—Ex.

A Portland paper states that the stork recently caused two calls at the same house within an hour's time. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Royle, and another came to their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ivory Royle.

Those who have attempted to figure out the relationships say that the family were provided within the hour with two daughters, a sister, an aunt, a niece, a sister-in-law, a grandmother and two mothers.

Son, after reaching home from school: "Father, do teachers get paid?"
Father: "Why, of course they do."
Son: "Well, wouldn't that jar you, and we do all the work!"

A traveller in the South chatted with an aged negro, whom he met in the road.
"And I suppose you were once a slave?" he remarked.
"Yes, suh," the old colored man answered.
"And, so, after the war, you gained your freedom," the gentleman continued.
"But the ancient one shook his head sadly: "No, suh," he declared with great emphasis. "Not peractly, suh. I don't get mah freedom, suh, after de war—I done got married!"

The way was rough, the night was cold, the minister was infirm and old. He was to preach in the village church next day, and arrangements for his bed and board had been made at Farmer Duncan MacDonald's. Being very tired and weary after his long walk from the station he retired to bed early, only asking that a glass of hot milk be taken up to him after he had got between the blankets.

"Look, here, Jean," said Duncan, "they tell me he's a stern testotaller, but I'm thinkin' an inch an' a half o' whisky in his milk wad doe the suld man nae harm. What dae ye say, woman?"

Jean agreed after some coaxing, so up she went to the minister's bedroom and handed him the hot "milk."

He took it from her, tasted it, smacked his lips and then quaffed it off. Putting down the tumbler lovingly he remarked: "God bless us, what a cool!"

A cow stood on the railway track. A train came round the bend. She'd stood there many times before But it got her in the end.

SOME EVIDENCE OF RADICALISM?

Day calls from golden Eastern skies, "Shuggards arise! Arise! Arise! To fetch and carry."

The brooklet through the meadow flows
And cries: "A rose! A rose! A rose! Would I might tarry!"
The lover frantically prays,
"Please, sir, a rose! A rose! A rose! I want to marry!"

Unfinished
A loud and objectionable bore had been talking for hours about himself and his achievements.

"I'm a self-made man, that's what I am—a self-made man," he said.
"You knocked off work too soon," came a quiet voice from the corner.

Blairmore hardware man: "What kind of pruning shears do you want?"
Young bride: "Oh, any kind—just so I can open a can of prunes with them."

What would contain all the snuff in the world? Answer: No one nose.

Here and There
(124)
The birds' day for grain banding that the port of Montreal has experienced this season was registered on August 21st, when deliveries went well over the 2,000,000 bushel mark for the 24 hours, and receipts were recorded at nearly 1,500,000 bushels, a total banding of 3,500,000 bushels for one day.

The almost complete absence of forest fires with their smoke screens marrying scenic effects—the brilliant clearness of the air in this region has made the present tourist season the best on record in British Columbia. Many touring parties travelled over the Canadian Pacific lines, some breaking the journey to motor over the picturesque Banff-Windermere highway. Among other groups may be mentioned the Alpine Club of Canada, which held its camp at the Lake of the Hanging Glacier, followed by the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies.

Approximately 250 new elevators have been constructed throughout Alberta this year. It is estimated by local grain men. The total capacity of these elevators would be about 18,000,000 bushels. It was stated that complete figures for elevator construction in the province were not available, but grain men stated that the extension of facilities had been progressing rapidly in all parts of Alberta. The capacity of the elevators varied from 35,000 bushels to 110,000 bushels. The Alberta Wheat Pool alone has 119 grain elevators in the province. In 1927 and practically all the public grain elevator companies have increased their storage capacity.

For the first season in a number of years the Niagara trout may be said to abound. Hydro-development with accompanying fluctuations in water levels, threatened extinction of this exceptionally game fish, but the careful regulation of the past three seasons has apparently restored the world's most famous trout stream to something of its old standing. Six requests of the Boundary Camp here brought in 125 pounds of fish yesterday, counting a fair number of four and five-pound trout caught mostly at the entrance to Lake Poly. Pike and pickerel still abound in the numbers, so it is thought that the restoration of the water level rather than the destruction of natural enemies has brought back the Niagara trout.

Entirely new and important schemes involving large expenditures on the part of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the placement of British colonists upon the land are to be undertaken through the Department of Colonization and Development of that company, working in co-operation with the Overseas Settlement Committee of the British Government. The details of these schemes have been negotiated during the present visit to Canada of Lord Lovat, Under Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs and chairman of the Overseas Settlement Committee. Any undertaking provided for the building of one hundred cottages by the Canadian Pacific for the use of British families. They will be used to make families accustomed to Canadian conditions and farm life before "home" establishments on farms of their own.

An interesting and remarkable feat in railroad engineering is now being effected on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway near Toronto. Span by span, the old steel bridge built in 1885 is being dismantled and replaced by heavier girders resting on new concrete piers without causing any interruption in traffic. During a six hour interval in the train schedule during the daytime, tracks and ties are ripped up, an old span removed, and a new section weighing 45 tons is swung into place by a great crane especially constructed for the purpose. The short gap left between the new and the old spans is temporarily filled by a trestle, new ties and track are laid by gangs of workmen, and the bridge is open to traffic. The operations are the most delicate the act of the railroad.

Wife at the Wheel
Doctor (to patient who claims to be a nervous wreck): "What are your symptoms?"
Patient: "I jump when I hear a telephone, the doorbell sends me into hysterics. Any stranger coming to the house frightens me out of my life, and I'm afraid to pick up a newspaper. Do you know what's wrong with me?"
Doctor: "Yes. My wife drives a car, too!"

Absent Minded
A young bridegroom, after the wedding was over and the bride's Scotch father had gone to the club, began to search among the wedding gifts.

"What are you looking for, dear?" asked the bride.
"That thousand-dollar cheque of your father's," he said; "I don't see it anywhere."

"Poor papa is so absent-minded," said the bride. "He lit his cigar with it."

Housewife: "Are you not the same man to whom I gave a piece of mince pie last week?"

Some Liquor
Two negro moonshiners were discussing the merits and strength of their products.
"Ah makes mah liker so strong," declared one, "dat when yo' drinks it yo' can done smell de cornfield whar dat corn was grown."

"Humph! Nigger, dat ain't nothin'," was the contemptuous comeback. "Ah spilled a few drops of mah liker on mah wife's pansy patch, an' dem pansies dun' turned tuh tiger lilies, yas suh!"

A little negro schoolgirl down in Florida in answer to one question, "What is anatomy?" wrote the following:

"Anatomy is a human body. It is divided into three parts—the hair, the chest, and the stomach. The hair holds the brains, if there is any; the chest holds the liver and lites, and the stomach holds the entrails and the vowels, which are a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes w and y."

A New Year's Resolution.

This is the season when with Christmas thoughts of "Peace on earth, good-will toward men" still uppermost in our minds we turn our faces toward the New Year in the hope and expectation that it will prove a better happier, more prosperous year than the one that has gone before. New Year resolutions are made, some are kept, many are broken, because man is after all very human and weak.

But there is one guiding motive in the lives of all which surely we ought to adopt and determine to keep. It will cost us nothing to do so, but a little self-restraint, and it will add immeasurably to our own happiness and peace of mind, and to the peace and prosperity of every human being, if we only practice every principle and the Dominion as a whole. May more, its universal acceptance and practice would constitute a permanent guarantee of the peace of the world.

It is the essence of the Christiana message, "Peace and Good-will toward men." It is the golden rule of life, doing unto others as we would that they should do unto us. It is a spirit of tolerance, of brotherhood, a recognition of the rights, even the prejudices of others, and acceptance of the fact that there are other viewpoints than those we ourselves hold and cherish.

In every community and in every country there are, unfortunately, men whose greatest ambition appears to be to multiply, stamp out, kill the spirit, the ideas, the principles which the "Mother of the world" has given to her disciples, and for which she has down through the centuries, through certain ends to serve, thrive for a time by stirring up strife, through the arousing of passions, prejudices, hatred, disrupting whole communities, and leaving behind them a trail of disunion, suspicion and ill-feeling where formerly concord and co-operation prevailed. These agitators, seeking self-aggrandizement, other selfish ends, pass on, but individual lives have been embittered, happiness, contentment, domestic life, and the all pleasant relations and unity destroyed.

It is a strange thing, yet so many otherwise sane and intelligent people give heed to the demagogic appeals of men of this type rather than to the real leaders of their country. Why is it that men and women can be situated, for a time, by these agitators, these false prophets, these men who speak in another language, or whose skins are of a different color, or because of fifth and upbringing, have been taught to worship God through different forms to those they themselves have inherited and accepted?

Rather than be swayed by these demagogues and hatred-brothers, would not Canada, and the people of Canada, find greater happiness, more real contentment, and achieve greater prosperity and attain to higher things, if, instead, they followed the leadership of Canada's real leaders, past and present?

The confederation of Canada was not accomplished by men who sought to divide the people into rival and antagonistic groups, stirring up passions and fanning the flames of racial and religious prejudice. Such men are never constructive, but always destructive. They never did, and never can, build up a country. No, confederation of the achievement of men like Sir John A. Macdonald, George Brown, Sir George Cartier, who, forgetting and submerging personal views, united and worked together harmoniously to unite Canadians of all classes, races, and religions into one great united Confederation.

Hon. R. B. Bennett, upon whom the mantle of Sir John Macdonald has fallen, is not preaching race and creed bitterness, but is raising his voice on all occasions for unity and sympathetic consideration by all of the convictions and rights of others.

In the Saskatchewan Legislature recently the Minister of Public Health said: "I claim that any brand of Canadianism that does not accord equality to all its citizens, irrespective of race, creed, color, or religion, is not Canadianism. If my country means anything to me, it means that its institutions are broad enough for every man to be protected in his faith, in his liberty, and as far as justice is concerned to have a voice in public affairs and to be able to express his opinions on public subjects."

As the caption in the Peace Tower of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, in common with all around the world, play out the old story of the now, not people of Canada rise far above the old suspicions and animosities of the past, and scornfully rejecting the appeals of those who would keep their country in a turmoil, accept as eternally true the words addressed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, shortly before his death, to a body of university students: "Trust is better than fear; faith is better than doubt; love is better than hate."

Heavy Cable Tolls

South American War Crisis Cost League of Nations Large Sum.

The South American war crisis has cost the League of Nations the biggest telegraph and cable bill in its career. The council despatched the entire official correspondence relating to the dispute between Paraguay and Bolivia to twenty-six governments, each separate despatch consisting of five closely spaced typewritten sheets. The total cost amounted to over $6,000.

Ring-Necked Pheasants

It would appear, from experiments tried on the ranch of R. Bray, that the ring-necked pheasant should thrive well in Southern Alberta. Last spring the Alberta Fish and Game Association bought forty chicks for breeding experiments. Two of them, now on display in a store window at Medicine Hat, are attracting quite a lot of attention.

Solve Arctic Mystery

Discovery of Two Skeletons in Siberia Threw Light on Polar Expedition.

Discovery of two skeletonized remains is believed to have solved the ten-year mystery surrounding the exact fate of two members of the 1910-1919 Polar Expedition of Roald Amundsen. The skeletons were found recently in northernmost Siberia.

The men involved were named Teisen and Knudsen. Both were members of the crew of Amundsen's ship, the Maud. They left the expedition at the Chukotka peninsula with letters, maps and scientific data of immense value, which Amundsen thought it should reach civilization at once. Teisen and Knudsen were trying to make Port Dixon. They never arrived and nothing had been learned of them until the discovery of the skeletons.

Is Losing Money Growing Price Wheat

Must Have Support To Continue Says Wheat Raisers.

Herman Trell, of Winnipeg, Alta., three-crowned king of the wheat world, will have to abandon experimental work on registered seed and turn to growing wheat commercially, "unless there is support coming from somewhere in Canada," he declared in an interview at Winnipeg.

"I am going broke growing high-grade exhibition wheat," he said, "I used to make money—quite a lot of money growing commercially—but practically all the money has gone on experimental work on registered seed."

The wheat king, who this year produced the largest crop of registered seed grain in the history of the world—ten carloads of it—declared "there is little money to be made in growing wheat that wins prizes in the leading shows of the world."

"If I had all the money that has been offered to me to accept various positions in the United States as the result of winning grain championships, I would not have to worry about the future," Mr. Trell continued. "But as it is, the money I made growing wheat for the market is almost gone, and unless there is support coming from somewhere in Canada I'll have to give up. Before, I never considered the financial aspect of growing prize wheat; now I have to consider it."

Anemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous troubles of the young. It is caused by overwork and overstudy. It is dangerous because of the weakness of the blood, which is the life of the body. Manitoba Industrial Progress

Production in Many Lines Shows Substantial Increase

"Production in almost every group of industry in Manitoba has been in excess of the year 1925. The Industrial Board's general survey of the province has found enough to indicate the increase in production in the leading groups of industry over the previous year. Flour and grain mills have increased 18 per cent; slaughtering and meat packing 10 per cent; bread and baking products 10 per cent; brewing 15 per cent; coffee and spices 20 per cent; printing and publishing 15 per cent; paper 45 per cent; stone 25 per cent; wearing apparel 22 per cent; and steel and iron 50 per cent. The estimated gross output for the province in 1926 is $159,222,000, or a general increase of about 20 per cent over the production for the year 1925.

Canada's Best Customer

Canada's trade with the Old Land is only second to that with the United States. But the difference between our trade with the United States and our trade with Britain is that whereas the United States buys from us but a fraction of what she sells to us, Britain sells to us infinitely less than what she buys from us. In one respect, therefore, and considering the high regard in which we hold the United States as that nation's best customer, Britain is really our best customer.

Formal Discussions Of International Problems

Time Has Passed When Nations Say They Tricked Into War

Chairman Britten, of the house naval committee, announced that he intends to propose for adoption by the International Union a plan for frequent formal discussion between representatives of two or more nations of their problems.

Britten divulged his plan in a letter sent to Commander Joseph M. Kenworthy, Labor member of the British parliament. The letter was in answer to a cablegram relative to a previous proposal of the chairman for a conference on naval limitation between committees from the house of parliament.

"The time has passed when nations say they were tricked into war by ambitious executives of irresponsible diplomats," Britten declared. "Secret so-called diplomatic understandings and mysterious treaties which the very life of a nation are put in place in a world of distrust and equality of opportunity."

As long as no agreement is reached for equality on the seas, Britten called "every appropriation for warship construction in Great Britain and the United States would be looked upon as money wasted in competitive construction. Without an agreement, he added, the United States should adopt a policy of "industrial defense" that would supercede armaments.

An increase in the navy because of the attitude of Great Britain on armaments was demanded in the senate by Senator Gillett, Republican, Massachusetts, and leader of the naval committee.

He said, "If Great Britain is to reduce her naval armaments, he could see no other safe course but to increase the United States navy, and add to it."

It is deplorable to contemplate or discuss battleships, but it is dangerous to shut our eyes to them. I thought again with recent statements in Great Britain that war between these two countries is unthinkable. Let all declarations of the best intentions are sometimes forgotten."

Patten Estate

Chicago Wheat King Leaves Huge Estate—50 per cent. of that left by the late James A. Patten.

The "Wheat King," who died recently, will eventually go to charity. The Chicago Tribune and Trust Company, named as executor and trustee, has revealed the estate is estimated at $150,000.

Due to the death of the widow, the estate is to be turned over by the trustee, one-fourth to the son, an equal share to his daughter, and the balance to be divided among seven charities.

Matches Do Not Make Enough For Home Market.

Canada, it would seem, ought to possess a thriving industry in the making of matches. This Dominion produces a large proportion of the material required. Yet in the past few years Canada imported matches to the value of $2,000,000, compared with $35,340 the year before. These came almost entirely from Sweden, though there were also purchases made in the United Kingdom and United States. Exports during the year showed a decline of from $18,779 to $34,481, these going in small quantities to a great many countries. Canada is at the same time exporting match splints for the industry in other countries. The value for the year showed a decline of from $18,779 to $34,481, these going in small quantities to a great many countries.

The United Kingdom is the principal importer while the Irish Free State is also an important market. BRITISH PREMIER DEVISING WAYS TO HELP MINERS

London, England.—The policy of moving unemployed miners out of the distressed coal fields districts to more promising parts of the country under government direction was, it is said, successful, the only means of affording permanent relief, stated Premier Stanley Baldwin in the House of Commons. The prime minister said that in addition to a statement on the government's proposals for dealing with the problem.

The government has spent £750,000 already collected by the fund, using $500,000 in transferring men and is going to contribute to the fund a further £250,000. The government is also considering the possibility of future collections.

Premier Baldwin believed it a fallacy to say that absorption of labor from the distressed areas would seriously interfere with unemployment relief. He said that the government was training centers in the distressed areas, and that the government was also considering the possibility of future collections.

Explosion Shakes London

Violent Explosions Rip Up a Mile of Pavement in City

London, England.—Leaping gas flames illuminated the wreckage of a street in London's busy West End where a series of violent explosions ripped up the pavement as though with a giant plow, for nearly a mile.

In perhaps a dozen streets, the roadway was in ruins. Fragments of cars and pieces of pavement were scattered about, and many of the persons were injured with burns or bruises, or affected by gas fumes.

Vehicles and lamp posts were overturned and great chunks of paving stones and slabs of concrete were hurled in every direction through the fronts and roofs of buildings.

The first explosion occurred in the post office tunnel, others followed rapidly, heaving up roadways and rocking the entire neighborhood.

It was feared immediately that London was experiencing an earthquake. The first explosion occurred in the post office tunnel, others followed rapidly, heaving up roadways and rocking the entire neighborhood.

The origin of the explosion is undetermined, although one report credited for a while to a gas leak, the first blast occurred when a workman crawled into a tunnel with a blow torch. Damage estimated at from $500,000 to $1,000,000.

Why Canada Should Remain In The League

Ottawa.—It is well worth while for Canada to remain a member of the League of Nations, Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of railways and canals told a large meeting of the Canadian Club here. Mr. Dunning was one of Canada's representatives at the meeting of the League of Nations assembly in Geneva this year along with Premier Mackenzie King and Senator Dunning.

"I am often asked," Mr. Dunning said, "whether it would not be better for Canada to adopt the attitude of aloofness taken by the United States in respect to the League since we were a new country on a continent separated from the prejudices and animosities of the old world."

The last war, he said, had proved that Canada could not afford to ignore the quarrels of other countries and let them fight it out among themselves. The dispute of the smallest of nations might bring all nations into conflict.

The exceeding courtesy that prevailed at all meetings impressed Mr. Dunning. The greater the prejudices, age-old hatreds and fears existing between nations, the greater the courtesy the representatives of these countries displayed to one another whenever they come in contact.

"As a westerner," Mr. Dunning explained, "acquainted to being more plain, this extreme courtesy at times became irksome. I asked one of the delegates why the representatives of the league did not say what they really meant. He replied that if they did the league would blow up in ten minutes."

Mr. Dunning pointed this out to show that every effort was made to avoid hurting any one's feelings.

Cause Of Death Unknown

Coroner's Jury In Ralph McKay Case Unable To Determine What Caused Death

London, Ont.—The mystery of the fate of Ralph McKay, drowned when a coroner's jury, after hearing medical testimony, returned a verdict to the effect that they were unable to state the cause of death. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKay, of Regina and a student at Western Ontario University, disappeared strangely on the night of October 25 and for nearly two months diligent search failed to reveal any clue to his whereabouts. Recently his decomposed body was found in the River Thames by children.

The jury's finding was based largely on the testimony of Dr. Fred W. Lunney, who was in charge of the body two hours after it was removed from the water.

Dr. Lunney, who performed an autopsy, declared that he had found no marks of external violence and no fractures of any bones. "There was no water in the lungs and the stomach, which was empty, did not indicate the convulsive struggle usual after death by drowning." Nor was any symptom of poison in the system.

"In fact," said the doctor, "I can not tell the actual cause of death."
